The TFM Show Builds Compelling Conference Team

Plans for a World-Class Conference Program Underway

TINTON FALLS, NJ – October 6, 2006. The TFM Show announced the appointment of a panel of Advisory Board members made up of individuals who have significant influence in the worlds of facility management, safety, security, space planning, technology, engineering, and the environment. The board is responsible for developing a top-notch conference program, where their knowledge, experience, and influence will assure a cutting-edge event. The TFM Show will be held from April 17-19, 2007, at the Navy Pier in Chicago, IL.

While reviewing proposed sessions for the conference program advisory board, members had this to say about the sessions:

Jeff Owider, director of facilities, CNET Networks, commenting on a session titled Business Ethics in Construction, says, "This should be a mandatory session for all facility managers."

On a session titled, Implementing Total Cost of Ownership Strategies, Pepe Alicea, facilities & distribution director for Compassion International, comments, "This is an area that is often missed or underestimated by FM professionals. This topic can better position FM practitioners to have an increased impact to the organization's bottom line and long term financial performance."

Robert Watts, director of facilities for the University of Chicago, had this to say about a session he evaluated: "This topic—exterior maintenance for interior efficiency—is not often covered from a systems standpoint. I look forward to this presentation."

THE TFM SHOW'S 16 MEMBER ADVISORY BOARD INCLUDES:

Peter J. Stroup, director of facilities, Harvard Medical School

Gary Wiley, property and facility coordinator, Office of Homeland Security/FEMA

Joanne M. Katz, director of facilities, Monster Worldwide

Liana Santoro, chief of office space planning, United Nations

Lori D. Howard, director of facilities design & planning, Arkansas Children's Hospital

Jeff Owider, director of facilities, CNET Networks

Jeri L. Knaus, sustainable practices coordinator, IL Dept. of Natural Resources – Waste Management & Research Center

Stu Carron, director, global facilities & real estate, JohnsonDiversey, Inc.

Robert David Watts, director of facilities, University of Chicago

— MORE —

Deborah Benjamin, facilities director, Dyax

Larry Kane, assistant VP of facilities & purchasing, Blackhawk State Bank

Maria Vickers, operations manager, WorkSpace, Inc.

Pepe Alicea, facilities & distribution director, Compassion International

Jim Elledge, facility project manager, Summit Alliance Financial, LLP

Joseph Ricci, president, Ricci Communications

Dominic Magisano, advanced facility services, 3M Health Information Systems

“We were absolutely determined to create an event that reflects the profession it serves,” said Ted Coene, executive director, events, of Group C. “For us to accomplish that effectively, it was critical that we assemble a group of highly qualified professionals with years of experience in facility management. The team we assembled will successfully meet this objective.”

Some of the speakers currently being considered include: Kevin J. Borg, director of facilities and project management, UCLA Athletics Department; David G. Bertorelli, director, space planning & design, Enterprise Rent-A-Car; Dean T. Kashiwagi, director, Arizona State University; and Samantha Putt del Pino, associate in the Climate, Energy and Pollution Program, World Resources Institute.
